DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 4 of page 2, "inert" should be changed to "insert". In line 6 of page 11, "5" should be changed to "6" to remain consistent with the drawings.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the British patent (GB 1,327,382).
4. GB '382 teaches a filter element comprising a pleated filtering member that is sunk into a plastic end piece that is then allowed to fully cure.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-3 and 5 are allowed.
6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: A method for manufacturing a filter element, comprising supporting a filter so that at least one part of the filter is exposed, semi-curing resin in a prescribed shape to prepare a semi-cured resin through a removable section in a place, which is apart from the exposed part of the filter so as to face the exposed part and hold it, removing the removable section and bringing the semi-cured resin into contact with the exposed part of the filter to forcibly insert the part of the filter into the semi-cured resin, and curing the semi-cured resin into which the part of the filter has been inserted, is not taught, disclosed or suggested in a single reference or a combination in the prior art of record. The closed reference to GB '382 fails to suggest a motivation for using a removable section that is used between the filter and semi-cured resin before insertion. Also, a mold for manufacturing a filter element, comprising a supporting member for supporting a filter so that at least one part is exposed, and a semi-curing mold member for semi-curing resin in a prescribed shape, the mold section having a holding section for holding at least a semi-cured resin and a removable section, which is removed to expose at least one part of the semi-cured resin, the removable section being disposed between an exposed part of the filter and the holding section, and the holding section being disposed so that the exposed part of the filter comes into contact with an exposed part of the semi-cured resin after removal of the removable section, is not disclosed in the prior art. The closest prior art to Wurtz et al. (2,893,058) discloses a removable member for use with molds but fails to suggest a motivation to use it with a filter for separating the filter from semi-cured resin in the mold.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The additional references listed on the attached PTO-892 form disclose filters having molded end caps and molding devices using separating members or partial-curing methods.
